

North West Population Health & Prevention Network

(Promoting multi professional public health practice)

Who are we?

We are a new multi professional network for the health, care and voluntary sector workforce across the North West. We are funded by Health Education England working across the North West – improving the quality of care delivered to patients, promoting quality in education and training.

Purpose of the network

To support the health and wellbeing contribution of the health care workforce – particularly around self-care, prevention and making every contact count.

To help your role around health protection and health improvement, creating a culture of wellness rather than illness in healthcare work.

Who is the Network for?

If you work with patients or have caring responsibilities within your job role – then this network is for you. If you work in healthcare, social care or the voluntary care sector then this network is for you.

What do we do?

Provide you with access to a digital platform to share information, ideas, provide access to events, education and training opportunities. Monthly E bulletin to keep you updated on matters relating to your preventive healthcare role and health & wellbeing news, events and public health practice here in the North West.

Our Aim

To help you integrate health & wellbeing conversations into your everyday interactions with patients, clients and the public at every (appropriate) opportunity. Helping you to: - “Make Every Healthcare Contact Count”.

Key Messages:

- The NWPHPN is a dynamic multi-professional network – promoting public health practice across the North West, open to staff at all levels working across the sectors of health, social and voluntary care.
- The network supports the health care workforce working across the Northwest regarding their population health, self-care and prevention role through education, training, networking and information sharing.
- The network contributes to Health Education England Northwest workforce transformation programme of work, creating a culture of wellness rather than illness in healthcare work and helping our network members to “Make Every Healthcare Contact Count”.
- The programme board will provide governance, strategic direction and professional expertise to create a thriving network with clearly defined outputs and work programme that contribute to the HEE mandate requirements, Health & Social Care Act 2012 & NHS 5YFV.
